The Engineers at 6nce started to construct the road northwest out of Cumieres over a shoulder of the Mort Homme, to meet the Forges Bethincourt road near Bethincourt. The Cumieres Forges road was also repaired. There was a good deal of shell fire of the enemy against both these roads and the jam of traffic due to the advance of troops made the problem of transport a difficult one. The positions of the guns of the forward Battalion were of course in the open with simple camouflage against overhead observation. The Infantry of General Wolfs Brigade--that is the right brigade--had dug in along the railroad track and were extended north of a point opposite Sivry-sur-Meuse. General Kings Brigade was facing north. General Kings Brigade was subjected to considerable artillery fire from the direct1on of Vilosnes. General King called for considerable...
