Dept. of Education, Institute of Education Sciences, National Center for Education Statistics, 2003 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)52972833 Subject: Computers and children -- United States -- Statistics. Excerpt: . . . program type ( part day vs. full day ), teachers attendance at computer technology workshops during the school year, presence of a computer area in the classroom, and the proportion of time classes spent in teacher-directed, whole-class instruction. For those public school young children with access to home computers, all children used their home computers an average of about 3 to 4 days each week. However, the purposes for which young children used home computers during the school year and over summer vacation ( e. g. , to access the Internet, play educational games ) varied by childrens sex, race ethnicity, and SES. The ECLS-K provides a wealth of information on childrens cognitive, socioemotional, and physical development from kindergarten through fifth grade across multiple contexts, including the home, classroom, school, and community. Since this report shows differences in computer access and use between public and private school children, additional analyses...
