Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Two Lectures on the Development and Present, Position of Chemical Analysis, by Emission Spectra The two lectures in this booklet arc based on a lecture delivered before the Sheffield Metallurgical Association, in December, 1924. They are now printed for the use of teachers of Chemistry, etc., with free permission to utilise them in their curriculum. The publishers have already issued four booklets dealing with spectroscopic analysis. The matter in these booklets is only to a very slight extent duplicated, each of them playing a part in a scheme projected by the author some years ago, the intention of which was to encourage and facilitate the use in industrial laboratories of the spectroscopes and spectrographs made by Adam Hilger, Ltd. Hilger Instruments in Industry, first published in 1919, and now in its seventh edition, is an alphabetical list of industries in which the instruments referred to are of value. Mention is made of some of the applications, but no details are given. In Optical Methods in Control and Research Laboratories, first published in 1920, Section I. deals with metallurgical and analytical applications of spectroscopy by emission spectra. Wavelength Tables for Spectrum Analysis, published in 1923, is a compilation of such tables of wavelengths as are daily required in a laboratory where spectroscopy is being employed. Spectrum Analysis with Hilger Instruments, first published in 1924, is primarily a booklet of instructions for the practice of spectrum analysis, but contains also a note on the modern theory of spectra and further practical applications. The present booklet, though the latest to be issued, would find its proper chronological place at the commencement of the series, since it deals with...
