Not illustrated. 1858 Excerpt: . . . hands of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank, of Detroit, it was purchased of that institution in 1849, by Norman Little, agent for Hoyt and Co. , New York City. A short distance below the present center of the town, was a small clearing, which had been made by the Hon. G. D. Williams, of Saginaw City, and which was called the farm. This farm was purchased by Norman Little about this time for agricultural purposes, while that portion purchased of the Bank, was intended to be laid out into a village. Near where now stands a large brick block, a solitary log cabin reared its shake covered roof in 1850, apparently monarch of all it surveyed, shut in by the green woods upon three sides, while the broad Saginaw rolled in majestic beauty before the door. This log house was built I think, by the American Fur Company, many years since, and at the time of which I speak, was occupied by Captain Leon Snay, a French hunter and trapper. About this time, a East Saginaw is located In a portion of two townahipa, vie: Town 12 Lt of B 4 E, and (own 12 N of B 6 JE. small clearing was made in the vicinity of this log house, and a steam saw-mill, a boarding house, an office, a rough building called the store, and a barn, were erected, which, together with a few board shanties, formed the nucleus of the large and flourishing...
